Ronald and Carole (Vinger) Haug Interview: June 14, 2012 County: Williams City: Epping

No More Grain Shoveling

Ronald Haug born in was 1943, attended grade school in Epping, and graduated from High Epping School in 1961 After graduation, he married Carole Vinger. They have three children.

When he was 28, Ronald was injured in a snowmobile accident that left him with permanent injuries. "When I left the hospital [after 118 days], I was able to walk with short leg braces and crutches [that he still uses]. I wore out many pairs; wrecked a few, ran over a few."

Carole says, "He just went out and bought more land and continued to farm. Bought more land and hired more help. He operated the farm machinery but couldn't lift or carry anything."

"I got out of the grain shoveling," Ronald says to shared laughter. "If you have good equipment you can get on and run it. I did a lot of it. I hired more help. I had a full-time man all the time. The last 10 years here, I not only had the guy I hired for all those years with us, but our son-in-law is farming now. Come in with us, and we farmed together-the land he already had acquired and so forth.

"The bad years weren't so fun, you know, but you have to take the good with the bad. If you want to succeed in life, you just have to keep plodding along. There are times where some years are not going to be so good, but then there are some good ones to make up for it. We can remember the bad times here when we thought we were going to lose the whole farm. Several crops were lost in a row. We had hail seven years. There were times we had a beautiful crop, and oh, my goodness, a hailstorm come up, and it was gone in 20 minutes. And then again we had several in a row where there were just excellent crops. So you just kind of hang in there. If it wouldn't have been for all [Carole's] hard work, we wouldn't be where we are today."

Carole adds, "We had a good life."

Project Safe Send accepting unusable pesticides in July

Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring says farmers, ranchers, pesticide dealers and applicators, government agencies, homeowners and members of the general public should bring unusable pesticides to any of the 12 Project Safe Send collections in July.

"Over the past 33 years, thousands of people have brought more than 6.4 million pounds of chemicals to Project Safe Send," Goehring said. "It is a safe, simple and nonregulatory program that helps people safely and legally get rid of unusable pesticides at no charge."

The program accepts old, unusable or banned pesticides, including herbicides, insecticides, rodenticides and fungicides. Project Safe Send is funded through product registration fees paid by pesticide manufacturers.

"Check your storage areas for any unusable pesticides and safely set them aside for Project Safe Send," Goehring said. "If the containers are deteriorating or leaking, pack them in larger containers with absorbent materials. Free heavy-duty plastic bags are available from the North Dakota Department of Agriculture if needed."

People with more than 1,000 pounds of pesticides should preregister. No other pre-registration is required. A maximum of 5,000 pounds of pesticides per participant will be accepted. Each participant is limited to one shuttle.

To ensure Project Safe Send can be utilized by as many North Dakota producers and citizens as possible, pesticide distributors and agronomy centers are limited to 3,000 pounds and one shuttle. These locations should pre-register if intending to bring in the maximum amount.

To pre-register, obtain plastic bags or for more information, contact Lilliann Johnston at the North Dakota Department of Agriculture at 701-328-2980 or lfjohnston@nd.gov.

The collections will run from 8 a.m. to noon local time at the North Dakota Department of Transportation facilities in the following cities:

Just Joyce

Well, we lucked out on not getting a couple of wicked storms that came thru last week. Thank goodness! I'm not sad about no hail, wind or tornados.

Trice and I went to Bismarck for an appointment and then stopped at sister Judy's house to drop off a birthday gift for sister Jacque. She was coming in for an overnight stay at Judy's, then her and Chris were headed to Montana.

Saturday Trice, Reece and I went to lunch. Hey Brad...good talk.

I walked into my sister's room and tripped on a bra. It was a boobie trap!

Hey Carleen, love you! Hey Don and Brenda, love you too!

Happy Birthday Donny! Love from your cousin's in North Dakota.
